Class of 2010

The Algernon Sydney Sullivan Awards were established by the New York Southern Society in 1925, in memory of Mr. Sullivan, a southerner who became a prominent lawyer, businessman, and philanthropist in New York in the late nineteenth century. The Society and carefully selected colleges and universities jointly arrange for the issue of Medallions which are to be perpetual reminders of Algernon Sydney Sullivan, the memory of whose life has been handed down with loving and grateful admiration as one that was a continuous expression of those high qualities which ennoble and beautify living and bind man to man in mutual love and helpfulness. Such lives must ever be encouraging and inspiring; they justify our highest ideals and hopes. These prestigious awards for excellence of character and service to humanity were presented by Cumberland University at the 2010 Commencement Exercises.

Dr. Harvill Eaton presents students: Keeley Locke (Left) and Anthony Allen (Right) with the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award

Sid and Georgia Durham are presented with the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award for contributing to Cumberland University for over 20 years.

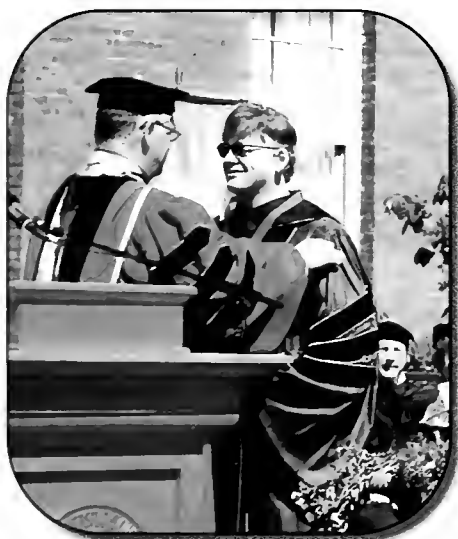

Karen Admunson (left) was presented with the President's Award.

It is presented annually to the graduate who, in the opinion of the President, most embodies the ideals, principles, and spirit of the University. The candidates for this award are judged on the basis of their scholastic attainment, personal bearing and integrity, leadership development, moral and ethical conduct, and loyalty to the University.

Sabrina Garrett (right) recieved the Cumberland University Service Award. The award is presented by the faculty to the graduate who has made an outstanding contribution to the University and who has outstanding promise for the future.

Dr. Michael Rex (left) was awarded the President's Award for Teaching Excellence. Dr. Rex is an associate Professor of English and revived the school's newspaper. His teaching methods help students view literature in another form.

Mrs. June Heydel recieved Cumberland University's Honorary Doctorate Award for the Heydel's generosity to this institution's Music and Arts programs.

25th President

A native of Donelson, Tenn., Dr. Harvill C. Eaton was appointed president of Cumberland University in January 2004. Under his leadership, the university has experienced tremendous growth and now serves nearly 1,500 students. Eaton's goals for Cumberland include growing the student body to approximately 2,000 students and taking the university to the next level with modern facilities and state-of-the-art technology.

Dr. Eaton holds a B.S. degree (1970) and an M.S. degree (1972) in engineering science from Tennessee Technological University and a Ph.D. (1976) in materials science from Vanderbilt University. Prior to joining Cumberland, Eaton served as Vice President for Research, Senior Vice President for Research and Graduate Studies and Provost at Drexel University in Philadelphia. He has also served as a professor at both Drexel and Louisiana State University

Beatrice LaChance

Dean of the School of Liberal Arts & Sciences

Dr. Laurie Dishman

Laurie Dishman earned a Bachelor of Arts from Carson-Newman College in 1993 with majors in mathematics and French and a minor in music. She earned a Master of Arts in 1995 and a Doctor of Philosophy in 1998 in mathematics from Vanderbilt University. She began teaching at Cumberland University in August 1998. In 1999, Dr. Dishman also became the Director of the Learning Center @ Cumberland University until 2004 when it closed. For the years 2008-2010, she has served as Interim Dean of the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences. At Cumberland, Dr. Dishman has taught many different courses, including Basic and College Algebra, Calculus I, II and III, Linear Algebra, Abstract Algebra I and II, Differential Equations, College Geometry, Special Topics in Mathematics and Structure of the Real Number System, a class required for all elementary education majors. She has served on the Faculty Senate (both as secretary and as president), Institutional Effectiveness Committees for mathematics and physics, the Teacher Education Advisory Council, the Student Disabilities Services Committee and the Learning Center Committee (as chair), as well as many other committees. She served as co-chair of the Quality Enhancement Plan Steering Committee until becoming Interim Dean and continues to serve as a member of that committee. She has also served as a faculty representative on the SACS Leadership Committee in preparation for reaffirmation in 2010. Dr. Dishman is the sponsor of the Abelian Group, Cumberland's student chapter of the Mathematical Association of America (MAA), where she organizes monthly speakers and activities for mathematics students, and has taken groups of students to the MAA-Southeastern Section conference meetings for the last three years (2008 at The Citadel, 2009 at Belmont University and 2010 at Elon University). She is also the faculty advisor of the Cumberland University chapter of the Alpha Sigma Tau national sorority.

Dean of the School of Business & Technology

Dr. Paul C. Stumb IV

Paul C. Stumb IV was born in Nashville and attended the Ensworth School and Montgomery Bell Academy before matriculating to Auburn University in 1978. After earning a baccalaureate degree in engineering with high honors, he accepted employment at the nuclear weapons complex in Oak Ridge, Tenn. and enrolled in graduate school at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. After earning master and doctoral degrees in engineering, Dr. Stumb moved to Atlanta, where he served as regional vice president for a national printing company and then started his own sales and marketing company in the wholesale gift and home decor market. Dr. Stumb also taught as an adjunct faculty member at Georgia State University and Shorter College. In 2002, he returned to middle Tennessee to run Lebanon-based American Corrugated and taught as an adjunct at Middle Tennessee State University and Cumberland University. In 2005, Dr. Stumb accepted the post of Dean of the Labry School of Business & Technology at CU.

In addition to his professional career, Dr. Stumb has completed more than 20 years of service with the U.S. Naval Reserves as a Cryptology Officer. He has also devoted many hours to non-profit and philanthropic organizations. He has and/or is currently serving on the boards of Junior Achievement, the Tennessee Kidney Foundation, Prospect Inc., the Chamber of Commerce, Leadership Wilson, Leadership Middle Tennessee, the United Way, Mid-Cumberland Area Development Corp, the local Rotary Club and the United Methodist Church. Dr. Stumb (and his wife Dr. Cristy Stumb) have five children -- a son, Paul V, who is a banker with SunTrust, a daughter-in-law, Dr. Courtney Stumb, who is a veterinarian in Nashville, a daughter, Maryanne, who is a student at Auburn University, and two sons, Trey and Christopher, both of whom are students at CU.

Dean of the School of Music & the Arts

Ted Rose

A nationally recognized artist and author, Ted Rose joined Cumberland University in the summer of 2008 as Dean of the CU School of Music & the Arts. Previously, he had served as director of educational research for Hurst, Texas-based Third Mind Publishing and as director of David Lipscomb University's School of Fine and Performing Arts.

Dean Rose has several publications to his credit, including the top-selling secondary education textbook on drawing in the United States, "Discovering Drawing." As an artist, he has participated in six international exhibitions and received more than 50 awards for his work. His artwork is displayed in over 300 private collections and more than 100 corporate collections, including the collections of several Fortune 500 companies. He has also served as keynote speaker for state art conferences in Nevada, Mississippi, Tennessee and Louisiana.

Dean Rose has also worked extensively with fine arts organizations as an instructor and board member. These organizations include The Tennessee Arts Academy, The Governor's School for the Arts and state fine arts programs in Texas, Mississippi and Louisiana. His students have also won numerous awards and have been recognized for outstanding work at the secondary, collegiate and graduate levels, including the National Scholastic Art Competition, the Texas Collegiate Art Competition and international competitions in Mexico and Switzerland.

He and his wife, Kathy, make their home in Lebanon. Mrs. Rose is an educator at the secondary level.

Dean of the Jeanette C. Rudy School of Nursing

Dr. Carole Ann Bach

Named dean of the Jeanette C. Rudy School of Nursing in July 2007, Dr. Carole Ann Bach received her B.S. in Nursing from Indiana University, her Master of Science in Nursing from Washington University in St. Louis and her doctoral degree from the University of Texas at Austin. During her 30-year career in nursing education, she has taught in the undergraduate and graduate programs at Virginia Commonwealth University and the Sinclair School of Nursing at the University of Missouri-Columbia. She has also taught at the graduate level at Vanderbilt University's School of Nursing.

While at Vanderbilt, Dr. Bach served as acting director of the Joint Center for Nursing Research (JCNR) for four years. The JCNR staff managed all of the research grant activities that took place in the VU School of Nursing. Dr. Bach also served as the Nurse Educator at Vanderbilt Stallworth Rehabilitation Hospital and held a joint appointment with the VU School of Nursing and the Veterans Affairs Tennessee Valley Healthcare System (VA TVHS), where she facilitated the research of the nursing staff.

Dr. Bach's clinical area is Rehabilitation Nursing, and she is a Certified Rehabilitation Registered Nurse. Her M.S.N. is in Medical Surgical Nursing. She serves on the Editorial Board of Rehabilitation Nursing Journal and as a reviewer for the Sigma Theta Tau Journal Scholarship. Her research program focuses on improving quality of life for individuals with disabilities.

Dean of the School of Education

Dr. Charles Collier

Dr. Charles Collier is Dean of the School of Education at Cumberland University, where he has taught since 2002. Dr. Collier received a B.S. degree in Agriculture from the University of Tennessee (1969), an M.A. (1973) in special education and Ed. S. (1980) in Supervision and Instruction from Tennessee Technological University, and an Ed. D. from Peabody College of Vanderbilt University (1983). During his 30-year career in K-12 education, Dr. Collier served as a special education supervisor and teacher, as well as principal at the elementary, middle, and high school levels. During implementation of the Tennessee Better Schools Program, he assisted in the development of the special education teacher evaluation system, Tennessee special education teacher licensure standards, and served as the Director of Administration for the Tennessee Academy for School Leaders. Before coming to Cumberland University, Dr. Collier worked in the mental health field as a teacher in an alternative school setting and a counselor for at-risk youth and clients recently released from prison. Prior to his studies and career in education, Dean Collier served as an infantry and intelligence officer in the United States Army with a combat tour as a military advisor in Vietnam. For his service in Vietnam, 1LT. Collier was awarded the Bronze Star. Dean Collier's interests and studies include the effects of school climate and the role it plays in student learning, as well as programming at schools established specifically for students with behavior problems. He has presented on these topics at the national, state, and regional levels. Dr. Collier serves as faculty advisor for the Cumberland University Chapter of the Student Tennessee Education Association. He also serves on the university's Graduate Council and the Executive Management Team. Dean Collier is a member of the Wilson County Chamber of Commerce Education Committee and is a board member for the Tennessee Association of Middle Schools and the Tennessee Staff Development Council. His work with area school districts includes serving on committees for the Tennessee School Improvement Plan and as an evaluation team member for accreditation with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Dean Collier and his wife, Bonnie, have three children and one grandchild. Their family enjoys traveling, boating, and fishing. He and his sons have fished in several countries, including Belize, Ireland, and Vietnam.

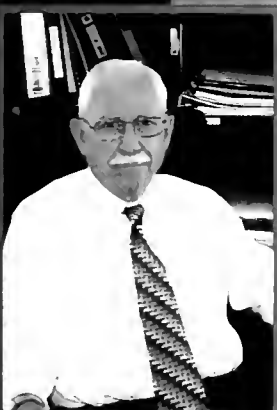

It has often been said that Business (like many things in life) is a "contact sport." As a student at CU, you have undoubtedly made many new contacts some of whom will likely become lifelong friends. When you complete your degree, don't view that milestone as the end of your education, but rather, continue to build on what you have learned at CU and continue to build that important network of friends, associates, colleagues, and contacts.

-Dr. Stumb

As you move on from here, reflect on your experiences and time spent at Cumberland. Your transition to the "real world" will not be simple. However, you are ready! CU has prepared you for what will come next. Rely on your experience and what you have learned, both in and out of the classroom. Cherish your time spent at CU and get ready for what the world has in store for you. Whatever you do, do well. And may success attend your efforts.

-Jason Brewer

Life isn't fair, but do your very best to be fair and truthful in all that you do. You are an ambassador for Cumberland University. Represent us well.

-Dr. Peterson

Please remember to always keep an open mind about every situation. Look at everything in this world from all angles. Keep the positive thoughts, energy, and ideas at the front and don't let negativity get you down. And most importantly, keep a thankful heart each and every day. I will miss all of you and wish you all the success and happiness in the world.

-Libby O'Guin

As you leave Cumberland, we wish for you to remember what a difference you can make on the lives of the people around you. Remember to focus on the important things in life. John Quincy Adams reminds us that "The influence of each human being on others in this life is a kind of immortality." You can live forever and make a difference to just a few people. Remember this and you will truly make CU proud as you go on with your life pursuing your dreams.

-John Quincy Adams

Love your job! Your passion for what you do will naturally lead to success.

-Stephanie deRouen

Remember always that the passage of time is what you do and do not remember and do not think about.

-Mark Twain

It is my sincerest wish that each Cumberland University graduate will hold fast to their own integrity. Money can be gained and lost, friends can enter and depart our lives, security, and jobs are temporal. Our integrity, however, is the one and foremost element that we can each hold fast to. Live to the fullest, but never compromise your integrity for anything but a temporary gain. It could be said that I have lived.

-Lisa Mack

remember...

the commitment

- "Making your mark on the world is hard. If it were easy, everybody would do it. But it's not. It takes commitment."

Abelian Group

The purpose of the "Abelian Group" is to touch, teach and transform lives among students with an interest in mathematics. The Abelian Group sponsored "Pi Day" which raised money and collected clothing for the Nashville Rescue mission by donation. They charged $1 to throw a pie at a faculty or staff member. Four of the club members attended the MAA-SE conference with Dr. Dishman, placing 13th out of 31 in the Math Jeopardy contest. Here at Cumberland, they also participated in the Fall Fun Fest.

Ben Briscoe, Lain Tomlinson, Caitlin Dickson, Tiffany Fennell, Rob Enoch, Susan Simpson, Brett Schultz, Cody Anderson, Matthew Stanfield, Brittney Brinkley, Danielle Spencer

Baptist Collegiate Ministries

The purpose of B.C.M. is to LEAD college students and others in the academic community to faith in Jesus Christ, to DEVELOP them as disciples and leaders, and to CONNECT them to the life and mission of the church. Baptist Collegiate Ministry worked with Southern Starrs which provides therapeutic and recreational horse-back riding and related activities for individuals with physical, mental or emotional disabilities. They were also involved in BCM girls retreat, Fall Fun Fest, and a BCM banquet.

Officers: Laura Carey, Sarah Ives, Kaleigh Walker, Chelsea Hardin, Mason Harrell, Jenny Thomas, Lindsey Dye, Drew Jennings, Brittan Hentz

Criminal Justice Club

The Criminal Justice Club is an organization open to both criminal justice and non-criminal justice majors. This club is a place where students can learn about careers in the criminal justice field.

Throughout the year, various guest speakers come to give students personal information about the criminal justice field and options relating to their major.

The Band of the Phoenix is open to all qualified university students who play brass, woodwind, or percussion instruments, or those who have experience in guard/flag corp and dance. Each fall, the Band of the Phoenix puts on two or three themed shows.

The goal of Divas with a Purpose is to improve the quality of the college experience by becoming a vessel of information throughout the Cumberland University campus. They aim to inform the total student body in the areas of health awareness, social interaction, and academic excellence. They were involved in Fall Fun Fest, Easter Egg Fest, Fashion Show and Breast Cancer Awareness. They hosted Divas Fashion Show and Black History Vigil.

F.O.C.U.S.

Freshmen Outreach Committed to Uniting Students (F.O.C.U.S.) is an organization that assists the Recruitment office with campus tours and campus visit days. The students work throughout the year with the Enrollment Management Staff. Their purpose is designed to assist entering freshmen with their integration into the Cumberland University community. This includes orientation, registration, academics, student activities, and overall campus life.

SAB

Student Activities Board is a group of undergraduate students who serve the University by planning and executing the many student activities on campus. SAB members are selected through an application and interview process by the offices of Student Life and Residence Life.

SAB members are encouraged to participate in all activities on campus as well as in other student organizations, making them the leaders on campus. SAB applications are available from the Office of Student Affairs the first week of each semester.

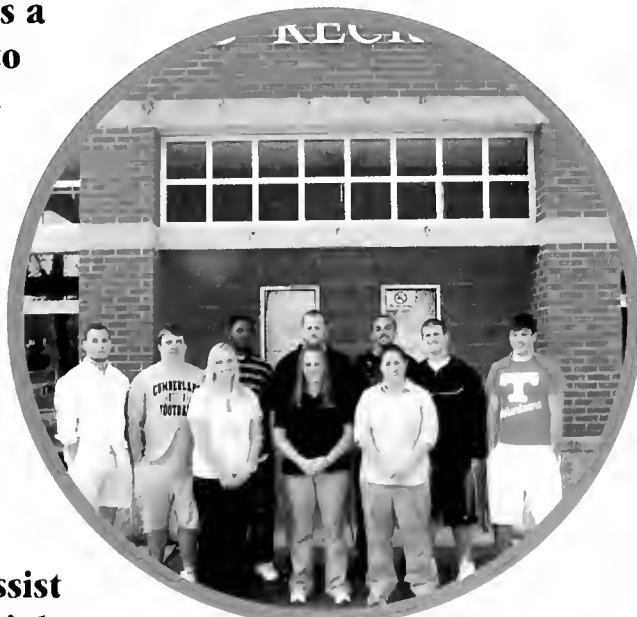

AB hosted many events this year, including Casino Night, Fall Frolic Week, After Glow Party, and Spring Fling Week.

SHAPE is a student-driven organization created in the Cumberland University School of Education. It is a faculty guided organization whose mission is to promote physical fitness and exercise through stakeholder learning collaboratives and partnerships focusing on the design and delivery of positive, inclusive, and cooperative physical education, recreation and sport programs, healthy lifestyles education, and awareness initiatives for enhancing community well-being. They were involved in the community wide Easter Egg Fest and held three symposia with guest speakers open to all students. Annually, the SHAPE organization helps to host and assist with the Wilson County Special Olympics event on Campus.

LEADERSHIP ACADEMY 2009

The Cumberland University Student Leadership Academy provides an opportunity for emerging and experienced student leaders to enhance their college experience by actively engaging them in learning basic and advanced leadership skills. The CUSLA seeks to foster collaboration between campus departments, faculty and staff members, community members, and student organizations to develop a conference that facilitates intellectual, professional, personal, and spiritual growth.

In 2009, the Leadership Academy explored Jim Kouzes and Barry Posner's Student Leadership Challenge model and learned strategies that would assist student leaders as they model the way, inspire a shared vision, challenge the process, enable others to act, and encourage the heart. As the capstone project of the conference, the students participated in a service project with Southern STARRS, a therapeutic horseback riding organization.

Be You At CU...

WELCOME WEEK

Welcome week is a time when all classmen are ushered in for an eventful week that prepares everyone for an exciting year to follow. This year was filled with many new and creative events that allowed even more student participation. Ultimately it is about making and cherishing those memorable moments between family and friends.

Here at Cumberland, Student Life department work diligently to welcome students back to the campus in the best way possible. This year, events included: Movie on the Lawn, Organizational Fair, Louisiana Crawfish Boil, Freshman Orientation, Convocation and a Slip-N-Slide in the quad. The first week was a huge success thanks to Student Life and their commitment to our University.

Cumberland University's INAUGURAL EASTER EGG FEST

Cumberland University is an institution that has strived for years to not only bring the student body together as one, but the community as well. This year the Student Government Association brought to the campus the Inaugural Easter Egg Fest for students and members of the community to partake in. The event showed one of the biggest outcomes seen since the "Fall Fun Fest." Student organizations were set up throughout the quad to help the children participate in games and activities and of course, an easter egg hunt. The event proved to be successful with even the "Easter Bunny" attending as well as long time friend and mascot, "Rascal." Faculty, staff, and members of the community come out in droves to support the event bringing everyone they knew. Ice cream was served to participants to "beat the heat."

The Student Government Association, as well as Student Services, worked diligently to prove to the community that we are one big family and after the event was finished reached that goal. Without the students participation, the event would never have been as successful as it was. After many years of giving back to the community, Cumberland and the students once again proved that we are here to stay. This event is definitely one that CU, as well as the community, will remember and enjoy for years to come.

In Memory Of

Farewell My Friend

Mary
Evans

It was beautiful as long as it lasted
The journey of my life.
I have no regrets whatsoever
save the pain I'll leave behind.
Those dear hearts who love and care...

And the strings pulling at the heart and soul...

The strong arms that held me up
When my own strength let me down.
At every turning of my life I came across good friends,
Friends who stood by me,
Even when the time raced me by.
Farewell, farewell my friends
I smile and bid you goodbye.
No, shed no tears for I need them not

All I need is your smile.
If you feel sad do think of me
for that's what I'll like when you live in the hearts
of those you love, remember then you never die.
